COACH FW 2018

The American brand Coach took their audience during NYFW, on an eerie yet romantic adventure with their latest fall/winter 2018 collection.

The show took place in a mystical enchanted forest complete with strategically placed trees suspended from the ceiling that had been spray painted with gold glitter to give the space an iridescent touch, eerie, flickering old-school televisions scattered throughout the "forest" and rustic almost dead leaves covered the runway floors. The crowd was filled with stars including Vic Mensa, GoldLink, Joey Bada$$, Petra Collins, and Selena Gomez.
